Shelly and James -

I just received that the technical direction (i.e., statement of work) has been approved (no changes from the version that I last sent you all and have attached) and sent to Tetra Tech. en is currently vacationing this week in Corvallis, OR, but is available for a conference call later this week, 1 - 3 August, so if you all are up to it, please let me know of your preferred times and date(s). If not, then let's try for next week...please provide times and dates.

The call will be mostly to get the logistics discussed so when Ben gets back in the office, he can hit the ground running since time is quite short on this project.
